These must be paid for in advance, or charged to responsible parties ordering the same.

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1911

TEN PAGES

This time next year the presidential campaign will be beginning to warm up right.

The electors of Ohio will no doubt see to it that there are a lot of new faces in the next legislature.

There is no longer any question about some of the members of the Ohio legislature having needed the money.

Former President Roosevelt has announced that he is for President Taft for a second term. That was true for his first term, and Teddy's influence at that time was a potent factor in the success of Mr. Taft. But conditions change in four years.

If Senator Dave Tod's bill had become a law a year ago, when it was first introduced, Representative Owen J. Evans of Stark county, who confessed Monday to accepting a bribe of $100 from an Akron loan man, could not have escaped sentence to the Ohio penitentiary. As it is, he will not have to pay his fine of 500 as he agreed to turn state's evidence and tell everything he knows about crooked work in the general assembly. However, he has forfeited the right to hereafter hold any elective or appointive office. Since the confession of Evans other members of the law-making body are said to be in a panic.

GREENFORD

June 8—The family of Ben Clark is very grateful for the festival held for their benefit and take this means of thanking all who assisted in making the festival a success.

Mrs. Lizzie Rhodes, widow of the late I. N. Rhodes, a veteran of the civil war, through the agency of W. R. Stewart has been placed on the pension roll at the rate of $12 per month.

There will be a game of ball Saturday afternoon on the home grounds with Patmos.

The Disciple church will hold a festival in K. of P. hall Saturday evening. All invited.

Children's day exercises will be observed in the Disciple church Sunday, June 18.

C. L. Toot and D. M. Charlton were in Canton Monday. There were three births and no deaths in this township during the month of May.

The strawberry crop is a large one and of fine quality. Shippers are having difficulty in securing baskets and crates.

A large number of Foresters came here from Salem Monday night and with local members of the order had a fine time.

BERLIN CENTER

June 7—Mrs. Kingman of Sturgess, Mich., visited at L. E. Mock's last week.

Mrs. Miller is quite ill.

Mrs. L. E. Mock spent Saturday in Youngstown.

Emerson Woolfe and Lohair Carson were home from Mt. Union Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wolf spent Sunday with friends in Beloit.

Miss Ethel Morris has returned from a visit at her home in Gr. Ve City, Pa.

Mrs. O'Neill is spending a few days in Damascus.

Mrs. I. J. Smith is visiting friends in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Shively and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Mock visited in Salem Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Johnston of Canfield was in town Friday.

J. B. Smith was in Warren Tuesday.

B. T. Stanley was in Youngstown today. He will leave with his wife next week for Oklahoma, going by automobile.

SALEM.

A vacant house owned by Mrs. Sara Myers was slightly damaged by fire Tuesday morning. It is thought forgers in the building the night before dropped a cigarette which caused the fire.

Police are investigating numerous burglaries in the city the past few weeks. It seems certain the jobs were done by local talent.

Pol Magrat of this city was found guilty Monday at Lisbon of selling liquor in dry territory. He was fined $50 and costs and will be sent to the Canton workhouse if he fails to settle.

K. of P. memorial services will be held next Sunday morning in the Christian church. Rev. M. J. Grable will pronounce the sermon. Graves of dead brothers will be decorated in the afternoon.

The total sum raised for the new city hospital amounts to about $63,000 which means a fine structure. It was aimed to raise $50,000. It is possible the fund will still be further increased.

Council has taken action to secure better street car service for the city.

Abuse your stomach today and it will reciprocate tomorrow.

YOUNGSTOWN

The G. A. R. boys and the veteran legion, the latter especially, are much disappointed that old Veteran J. W. Lindemith was not up from Lisbon or Dunganon on Decoration day. It is the first time for some of the boys to know Mr. Lindemith to be away on the great patriotic occasion.

Lawyer Moses Burky looks today about as healthy and wholesome as he did when he was mayor of Canfield. Maybe it's the rural life is keeping him in such good condition.

President Campbell of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. has announced that should the prices of steel products be further reduced it will be necessary to reduce the wages of the company's employees also.

Following three fires in East Youngstown in a few months the citizens have formed a volunteer department, with John E. McGarry as chief. In the last two fires all that saved the village, from being wiped out was aid sent by the Youngstown fire department.

The cornerstone for the $175,000 Y. W. C. A. building was laid Sunday afternoon. The structure was made possible by public subscriptions during a campaign last summer, and will be one of the finest buildings of the kind in the state.

The base ball game Sunday afternoon between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Steelmen was called at the end of the fifth inning on account of rain, the score standing 2 to 2. That shows that the big leagues do not include all the good ball tossers in the country.

It is likely no successor to the late district superintendent O. W. Holmes will be made until the return in July of Bishop Bristol, now on his way to England. It is not improbable that one of the Methodist ministers in this city will be appointed.

The liabilities of Lawrence McGowan, who conducted the Savoy hotel and last week filed a petition in bankruptcy, are placed at $7,500 and assets at $3,400. Judge Calvin receiver and he is making a good fist of it as a landlord. He hopes to pull the business out of the financial hole in which he found it.

Mrs. Richard Morro of East Boardman street started a fire with coal oil the other morning and when an explosion resulted she and her two children were badly burned. The woman is possibly fatally hurt. Her clothes were completely burned off of her.

John Zanders, 83 years old, was so disturbed by the storm Sunday night that he went into a shed and committed suicide by hanging himself.

Miss Flossie Moss, aged 18, has caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Donald and Everett Dalbey, aged about 18 and 20 years, charging them with assault. The girl says the brothers took her and another girl for an automobile ride Friday night and after her companion had been taken home the brothers tied her to a stake and bound and gagged her. She was able by biting and scratching to beat off her assailants. Her apartment was badly burned. The woman is possibly fatally hurt. Her clothes were completely burned off of her.

In this promiscuous automobile riding by young girls the greatest possible danger lurks. There are a lot of lecherous brutes, and not all of them are young, either, who are constantly pursuing girls yet in short dress.

It would be well if some of these unwholesome scoundrels could be caught and given the sort of medicine handed out in the south to men who are caught at their cussedness. The new office building of the Republic Iron & Steel Co. near the Market street viaduct will be completed and ready for occupancy July 15.

This city has one of the best kept jails in Ohio. Sheriff Turner and his corps of assistants take much pride in keeping the fine new structure in perfect order and scrupulously clean. A lot of the prisoners are far better housed and fed than they ever were when at liberty.

Under the one per cent tax law the most rigid economy must be practiced by the city board of education. There will be no money for frills the coming year.

Friends of Prof. Edwin F. Miller of Raven school are urging his selection as the first principal of the new south side high school. His selection would be merited recognition of his ability as an educator. Prof. Miller years ago was an instructor in the Normal college at Canfield.

David Heinzelman has announced that he will be a candidate for the republican nomination for city treasurer at the primaries Sept. 5. Dave has had much of office holding and in his advancing years shows no disposition to pass up political place.

Enumeration recently completed shows that there are 17,970 persons in this city between the ages of 6 and 21 years. This is a gain of 423 over last year.

A big bunch of prisoners, young and old, were taken to other state institutions from the county jail the latter part of last week. But the jail is not empty, by a jug full.

It is said that a lot of married women whose husbands are out of town or working hard around the streets for no good at hours of the night when they should be at home.

It is a safe bet that the Bell and Independent telephone companies in this city will be merged before many moons wax and wane.

Judge Robinson last week sliced the $14,500 damage verdict for Lavina Merriek against the Pennys Co. in two. He held that the verdict was excessive. The action was the result of an accident on the Stark Electric railroad crossing near Alliance some months since.

"Cold meats go up," is the headline in a local paper. That is no worse than getting the cold shoulder.

A smooth stranger circulated a paper last week, raising funds to bury a child that had died in poverty. His name was discovered after he had gathered in 50 plunks, but he had shipped to other fields.

In this leafy month of June there is a great rush in common pleas court for divorces. This country in an elder day was the Gretna Green for marriages but now the tables are turned and divorce cases have the call.

There is no disguising the fact that trade generally with local merchants is not booming. But they are hoping for steadier work at the big iron plants which means revival of business.

Cornell Monday night passed an ordinance fixing the automobile speed limit within one mile of the Diamond, all of West Federal street and Wilson avenue at eight miles an hour. Now, believe me, there are a lot of auto drivers who are hot under the collar. Some machines can hardly be choked down to that speed.

Judging from reports that come in, the rural folk of this county would be satisfied with nothing less than an increase on city property equal to that placed by the state board of equalization on theirs. The opinion prevails, evidently, that the city is to be let off without paying its full share of taxes.

The candidacy of some men, both republicans and democrats, is regarded by many to be so much of a joke as not to be given even passing notice.

Rev. J. T. Lloyd received painful injuries Monday night at the Welsh Baptist church when he slipped and fell against the end of a pew. For a time it was thought several ribs had been fractured.

The Capital Construction company is to receive from the county $4,639 for resurfacing the floor of the South avenue bridge.

Solicitor Jenkins has rendered an opinion that an entire city board of education must be elected next fall.

Great was the musical feast furnished by the Thomas orchestra in the park pavilion Wednesday night and Thursday afternoon and evening.

Postmaster O. P. Shaffer has rounded out the first year of his fourth term, hence has three years yet to serve. By that time, or before, there will likely be a new bunch of candidates for the place. And it may be they'll be democrats. That surely would be the case should a democratic president be elected next year. But that is too remote to be a source of worry to the genial O. P. and P. M. at this time.

It pleases Youngstown folk to know that the great Canfield fair this year will be held the first week in September instead of the last of the month as for years past. Every year there is a great exodus from this city to what everybody regards the greatest county fair in the state.

Unstinted praise is given Senator Dave Tod and Representative J. G. Cooper for the service they rendered in the legislature. They were found on the right side of every measure brought up in the legislature, whether it came from republican or democratic sources. Much that was good was accomplished through their efforts. And men of all parties are giving them due credit.

Many from this city attended the annual commencement of the Normal college in Canfield Thursday. The school has a large number of graduates and staunch friends in the capital of Mahoning.

Senator Tod has a string of race horses in training on the track at Southern park.

Elias Samuels, a hostler in the Erie round house at Mosler, had his right hand cut off by the wheels of a locomotive Friday. He was under the engine when it was started by an assistant and in attempting to save himself lost his hand.

The street car barns on Hillman street are to go and temporary barns are to be provided at Glenwood and Parkview avenues.

While on their way home to Austintown from here Friday afternoon, M. and Mrs. Ezra Houk narrowly escaped injury when a street car collided with their rig on a street near Mahoning avenue extension. The occupants of the buggy escaped without a scratch but the horse had its leg broken and had to be shot. Mr. and Mrs. Houk were just east of Calvary cemetery when a car approached. Their horse shied and whirled the rig around. The street car grazed the wheel of the buggy. The frightened animal was brought to a stop some distance away as the buggy was not upset. It was then discovered its left leg had been broken. A policeman shot the horse following an examination by a veterinary surgeon.

E. E. and Clara Wolfgang, owners of a farm in Beaver township, have been awarded total damages for land taken and damaged by the M. V. Water Co. of $1,961.78.

In the case of John T. and Will McConnell of this city against the Cleveland Electric Railway Co., for personal injuries sustained in an accident in Cleveland 18 months ago, a settlement was effected for $7,500 after several days had been spent in hearing the case in court.

There seems to be an impression that the city is wrongfully directed against the McMillan public library association or the trustees, who are accused in some quarters, mostly socialist, with acting the part of censors in the matter of books and addresses. That is true, all right, to an extent, but is no more against the Socialists than against the democrats or republicans or the water-wagoners or any other set of men or opinions. The rule of the library here is the same as that of every great library in the country—to keep it free from partisanship and politics and all ultra teachings or new fangled cults as much as possible. Once in a while the trustees may get taken in, as they did here when Julian Kennedy spoke in the library and a rip-roaring political speech, when he was expected to speak on nothing more startling than municipalities and their uses or something equally mild-mannered. The public library is not for the classes, but the masses.

James H. Nutt and P. J. Gainard, the former secretary of the Western Bar Iron association and the latter a delegate from Garland lodge of the A. O. U. E. to Cambridge Springs Tuesday to attend the annual wage conference.

Mrs. Mary Mazur, who was terribly burned Friday afternoon, died from her injuries in the City hospital Sunday. There was and may be yet some mystery relative to the fatal fire. She said her husband pushed her on a hot fire with the aid of kerosene and was thus burned so badly that death resulted. Coroner Cross has decided to hold no inquest for the reason the firemen found the oil can near the stove and all the evidence so far obtained sustains the claims made by the husband.

Folks over here who are interested in oil say there is not much doing now in Stark, Columbiana and Carroll counties and that a lot of new wells put down turned out to be dusters.

Considerable damage was done here and in the vicinity by the storm last Sunday night, when a car on the M. V. in East Youngstown was derailed by reason of a washed out track. Lightning struck the residence there of George Schuller. A boarder in the house was knocked out of bed.

On account of the Smith 1-per cent taxation law the county budget commission was organized last Monday, meeting in the court house in the office of Auditor Will Jones. There is considerable kick on account of the new law, but it is the general opinion of many taxpayers that it is one of the best that has been passed for years, and also that it should have been on the books long ago, for the crop of taxpayers is so rank in this and other cities that the people, very many of them are actually disgusted in this new law they see relief they had often hoped for, but hardly expected to get through the Ohio graft legislature, or a legislature of whom a part are grafters.

Evelyn Marsteller was divorced from Charles B. Marsteller by Judge Disney Rogers last Saturday, she being allowed the munificent sum of $5 a month alimony and to see her children every two weeks. He sued her for divorce for neglect and then she whacked a suit at him for separation, charging him with cruelty.

Here is a hot divorce suit, in which Ruth B. Marshall charges her husband, Clarence S. Marshall, with neglect and extreme cruelty. She alleges her husband threatened her with violence if she did not drink whisky. She also asks to be restored to her maiden name, Ruth B. Parker.

George Streib has sued the misses for divorce, swearing she is guilty of what you call it—sued for divorce on statutory grounds. So far in reply the misses have not been heard from.

Turnkey Michael Donnelly, who is perhaps the oldest man on the local police force, and who has been considered under the weather for some time, is again on duty. Michael used to be the jail turnkey and has been wearing the blue on the force for years. And it is a question if the city ever had a better or more faithful servant than he.

We have had some sermons here in Welsh lately. One of them is Rev. David Lloyd of Holyhead and the other Rev. E. U. Thomas. They are able and eloquent.

The Youngstown Bait, Casting and Fishing club have a kick coming. They have been having minnows put in the Mill Creek park lakes and in the Mahoning river, but certain fishers, more, for they say, than the club, take the minnows for bait. So the minnow-putting is all off till the club gets a body of water of its own for fishing purpose; and it expects to do that in a short time.

Yes, sir—reel! We are going to get good, or be made better, by a darned sight than we are now. The Ministerial association has planned for a big revival next fall.

SALEM

Close to 1,000 people attended the industrial picnic last Saturday at Rock Springs park.

Enthusiastic citizens are bending every energy in the effort to raise $50,000 for a city hospital. As managers of the campaign no better men than Grant Whitslar and Bert Wells could have been secured. Both are hustlers and they are rapidly driving the issue to a successful finish.

Rev. L. M. Latimer last Sunday assumed his duties as pastor of the First Baptist church. The church had been without a pastor since January when Rev. Herman Lang resigned to accept a call to Ashtabula.

George Slagle and Miss Alice Wier of Beloit called at the residence of Rev. M. J. Grable in this city Monday afternoon and were united in marriage.

Miss Clara Callahan, employed in the Grove chewing gum factory, had two fingers of her left hand badly crushed Monday in the rolls at which she was working.

Quite a number of Knights of Columbus from this city were in Leontonia Sunday when a new council was instituted.

Business may be a little slow in this city just at present but that is true of every city in all this great country. But there promises to be a great business revival shortly, here and elsewhere.

During the storm Sunday afternoon lightning struck the residence of Homer Yengling, ripping off a part of the roof and putting the telephone out of business. None of the occupants of the house suffered in the least from the bolt.

Amity lodge of Odd Fellows has elected George McArthur noble grand and George Hack vice grand. These and the appointive officers will be installed the first meeting night in July.

Five large wagons were required last Friday to convey the high school students to Shelton's grove for a picnic. A fine time is reported.

The remains of Chas. Ovington, formerly of this city, who was murdered and robbed last February in the warehouse of Vancouver Island, where he had taken up a land claim, were brought here last week by his brother William, who went to northwestern Canada some weeks since. Funeral services Saturday were conducted by Rev. W. L. Swan and burial was made in Hope cemetery.

Early next year V. A. Cowling will take over the vegetable greenhouses of J. N. Bonnell and Lee Chamberlain on Garfield avenue. The latter will establish greenhouses in another quarter of the city.

Tom Demoe, a foreigner who was long a violator of local option laws in this city, was taken to the Canton workhouse last Friday to work out fines of $500. Unless he is able to raise the coin his sojourn in the Canton prison will be a long one.

Miss Alpha Wagner of Sebring is now organist in the Christian church of this city, succeeding Lee Hollo-way of Columbiana, who resigned after serving two years.

Supt. Johnson has recommended to the board of education that a summer school be held for pupils of the grammar schools who failed to pass in one or two branches. He argues, and rightly, too, that many boys who fail in the seventh and eighth grades drop out of school because they do not want to be behind their classmates. It will encourage this class of students to continue their education if a summer school with two teachers is provided.

Otto Alaback, who served three years in the regular army, arrived home Monday. For some time he was stationed at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, and saw much of the Mexican fighting. He likes army life but will not re-enlist for a while at least.

Several city school teachers have been granted increased salaries. Lucille Gallagher, aged 5, was struck Monday by Dr. Sigler's automobile and considerably injured.

SAID BY THE SAGES.

Thou art most happy if thou couldst be content.—Socrates.

Fame comes only when deserved, and then it is as inevitable as destiny, for it is destiny.—Longfellow.

Let each day record some kind, some gracious thought; some deed with loving purpose wrought.—Marian.

The man who delights in home will take a pleasure in making that home comfortable and beautiful.—James Edmeston.

Talents are best nurtured in solitude; character is best formed on the stormy billows of the world.—Goethe.

What is done for effect is seen to be done for effect; what is done for love is felt to be done for love.—R. Emerson.

Advice, like snow, the softer it falls the longer it dwells upon, and the deeper it sinks into the mind.—Coleridge.

The temperate are the most truly luxurious. By abstaining from most things it is surprising how many things we enjoy.—Simms.

Praise is encouraging; it brings out the best there is in a man, and inspires him to do his duty cheerfully and faithfully.—Henry Lee.

BLAME IT ON DESTINY.

Better overwork than loaf.

The man who has to taper off to take a brace usually doesn't stick!

Sometimes, when you think you've lost your nerve, it merely has strayed!

The shallowest man we ever met knew about a nickel's worth about everything.

About one-eighth of 1 per cent. of the midnight oil is burned for studying purposes!

Grimacing in the teeth of disaster may be grand stuff, but it counts in the percentage column!

One advantage of possessing a barometrical temperament is that it warns you when to furl sail!

We never felt like casting any nose-gays to the temperate chap who was born with a dislike for the stuff!

Every time we've hesitated at a critical juncture we finished by getting the change down on the wrong number.

No matter how obviously it may be our own fault, we love to dope it out that destiny has dealt us a mitt from the bottom of the deck!—Clarence L. Cullen in "Milwaukee Sentinel."
